Stretch marks can be a common part of life for many men and women.

When the skin has been stretched too far or too fast – such as during puberty, pregnancy or weight fluctuation – these discolored lines may appear. This laser treatment improves stretch marks, revealing smoother, brighter skin. Laser stretch mark treatment is quick and easy with minimal aesthetic discomfort.

How does it work?

This fractional non-ablative laser uses microbeam technology to deliver pulses of laser energy that target and break down stretch marks, stimulating new collagen and elastin production underneath the skin. This process will help improve the texture and color of the stretch marks.

What results can I expect?

You can expect to see an improvement in the appearance of your stretch marks, as well as smoother skin texture*.

Treatment plans can be adjusted to fit your lifestyle.
